Requirements for Admission.

All candidates for admission must be of suitable age, and must present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

A good knowledge of the common branches is requisite for admission to the Preparatory Class.

Candidates for advanced standing must pass a satisfactory examination upon the studies pursued by the class which they propose entering, or in their equivalents.

Candidates properly prepared in some studies for admission to a higher class, but deficient in others, will be permitted to make up their requisitions by regular recitations in the lower classes. This requirement is essential to proper progress in the higher branches.

 No vicious, idle, or disobedient student will be retained in the Institution, nor will such be knowingly received.

Students will not be permitted to leave School before the end of the Term for which they enter.

The Best Mode of Preparation.

The success of a student in the higher classes depends upon the thoroughness of his preparation. Many young men, of limited means, attempt to prepare themselves for the higher classes, by private study. Although praiseworthy, this is a radical mistake, as thorough instruction is more needed in the elementary than in the higher branches, and the facilities provided here will enable students to accomplish more with an ultimate economy of time and money. The drill of the first two or three years of the Course is all-important, and students should, by all means, spend these years in College. Such, however, as find it convenient to prepare themselves for any of the higher classes should follow closely the plan of study laid down in this Catalogue, and not anticipate studies which may be pursued with more advantage here.

COMMERCIAL COURSE.

Having purchased the good will and Fixtures of BRYANT, STRATTON & FRANCISCO'S BUSINESS COLLEGE, lately located at Harrisburg, the same will be consolidated with this institution, and will be re-opened with increased facilities on the second (2d) day of August next.

We design making this department first class in all respects, and while we offer superior facilities for a practical education, we aim to attain higher results. Punctuality, reliability and regularity are the qualities essential to every business man; hence, to induce proper habits, students are required to conform to wholesome regulations.

This institution is located at Annville, twenty-one miles east of Harrisburg, on the Lebanon Valley (P. & R.) Railroad. Six trains stop daily. The location is beautiful and very healthful. It is free from the demoralizing influences and excitements of larger places, and hence is more favorable to mental and moral development.

The department is arranged for carrying out all the minutiae of trade in its most complicated forms, and is extensively and elegantly furnished. It has a Writing Department, Notary Public's Office, Steamboat Office, Telegraph Office, Express Office, Mining Office, Railroad Office, Stationery Store, Grain Emporium, Stock Exchange, Post Office, Notion Store, National Bank, Merchandise Emporium, Iron and Agricultural Department, Jobbing and Importing Office, Wholesale and Retail Grocery Store, Forwarding and Commission Office, Real Estate Agencies, &c.

These are all separate offices, fitted up with finely-carved counters and desks, with glass fronts, money-drawers, with checks, notes, books, and every thing complete, so that students make actual transactions, using representative merchandise and money, thus obtaining a practical knowledge of business.

There are special advantages connected with this school. Students deficient in the common branches, or wishing to pursue any of the higher ones, will have the opportunity of doing so at the moderate expense of one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per month for each study.

The cost of boarding, &c., is less than it can be in cities, and, as students board and room in the institution, they are preserved from those things which ruin the prospects and health of so many young men.

In order to enter this department, students should be 18 years of age and possess a good Common School education.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

1. Sessions and Vacations.

The Collegiate year of forty-two weeks is divided into three terms of unequal length. The Fall Term of twenty weeks commences on the first Monday (2d) of August, and closes on the third Friday (17th) of December. The Winter Term of eleven weeks commences on the first Monday (3d) of January, 1870, and closes on the third Friday (18th) of March. The Spring Term of eleven weeks commences on the first Monday (4th) of April, and closes on the third Friday (18th) of June. There are three vacations, viz., six weeks during June and July, two weeks at the Christmas holidays, and two weeks between the Winter and the Spring Terms.

2. Time of Entrance.

The proper time of entrance is on the first Monday (2d) of August, on the third Monday (18th) of October, and at the commencement of the Winter or the Spring Terms. Regular students may enter at any time, but no student will be received for a less time than a term, except by special contract.

3. Buildings and Accomodations.

The new College building is provided with all the modern improvements. The rooms are arranged for two students each. They are well ventilated, contain clothes-presses, and are heated with hot air. Each room is furnished with a bedstead, mattress, bolster, pillows, spread, and with table, chairs, and mirror; and the ladies' rooms with washstands. The building is supplied with water, bath-rooms, &c., and the young gentlemen are provided with a room for general toilet purposes. The buildings will accomodate 75 boarding students, but ample arrangement can be made for two hundred students in private families.

4. Outfit.

Each student should provide himself with a pair of sheets, a pair of pillow cases, a pair of blankets, table and toilet napkins and slippers. Each piece of clothing or bedding should be indelibly marked with the owner's full name. The rooms will require ten or twelve yards of carpeting, which the occupants may carpet according to their taste.

5. Terms of Payment.

One-half of the boarding, tuition, &c., is to be paid on entrance, and the balance at the middle of the term. It is important that students should attend regularly; hence no deduction will be made for absences except in case of protracted sickness.

6. Text Books and Stationery.

Text books and stationery are furnished at city retail prices.

7. Degrees and Diplomas.

Students completing any of the prescribed courses, will receive a DIPLOMA and the DEGREE to which the course entitles them.

8. Literary Societies.

There are two societies connected with the institution, which are in a flourishing condition.

9. Library.

A library of well-selected books is accessible to all the students.

10. Religious.

A positive religious influence is exerted without proselyting, and students may attend church at such places as their parents or guardians designate.

The religious services connected with the school are as follows:

1. The opening exercises of each day, consisting of the reading of the Scriptures, singing, and prayer.

2. A public prayer meeting on Thursday evening.

3. Bible class on Sabbath.

4. Religious services in the College Chapel on Sabbath, at 10 o'clock. a. m.

Discipline.

THE GOVERNMENT of the COLLEGE is strict, but parental.
